Haute Dog

Jez and Bella don their red, white and blue to celebrate their American spirit.

As much as they love the fireworks and hot dogs, the best part about the Fourth for Jez and Bella is the chance to suit up in cheery stars and stripes. Bella (left) brings a feminine edge to patriotism in her Americana Dress ($15), while Jez opts for low-key vacation wear in an Americana Tee ($15). All clothing comes from PETCO, one of the girls' favorite spots for stocking up on their USA-themed getups and toys. —KARON WARREN

Add a dash of Americana to your dog's collar with RED DINGO's AMERICAN FLAG TAG.

Available in three sizes with a variety of background color options, these cute tags combine stainless steel with enamel so they hold up well under everyday wear and tear. From $12, at Highland Pet Supply

It wouldn't be July Fourth without ice cream, and now your pooch can share in this delicious treat. Created with all-natural ingredients in a low-fat yogurt base, LICKALOTS is a frozen, lickable treat that aids digestion, assists nutrient absorption and boosts the immune system. $1.50-$3 for individual pieces and $27-$30 for crates, at City Dog Market

Enjoy some exercise with your beloved dog with MARTHA STEWART PETS' THREE-RING ROPE TOY. Made of cotton and polyester, these tug toys promote healthy teeth and gums all in the name of fun. $10 at PetSmart

Pretend you're spending the Fourth of July in Hyannis Port with BLUE-BLOOD's KENNEDY COLLAR AND LEAD. Constructed of poly cotton and nylon webbing with metal hardware, this set epitomizes the class and elegance of America's royal family. $36, collar, and $44, lead, at Inman Park Pet Works

For the perfect holiday accessory, look no further than MIRACLES ON EARTH's BANDANNAS. Available in three styles—contour, scout and sport—these bandannas come in five sizes and seven patterns (shown here, The Patriot), plus they can be personalized for an additional fee. $8-$11, at moesplace.net and amazon.com
