

Blueblood Pups Sleep on St. Barths (or Martha's Vineyard)

Aug 20 2009 - 10:30am

I've got vacation on the brain so when I spotted cheekily named dog beds, I imagined myself hitting up one of these spots with North [1] resting alongside.

I love the color palettes used for the Blueblood [2] products — they'll leave you green with envy and red in the face that they don't make them in human sizes!

The full bed/cover set runs $105-$210 but, for those Molly Mutt stuff sack fans [3], you can also purchase just the pretty covers for $76-$150. In addition to these lovely resting spots, they've got adorable collars and leashes [4], but I only wish they'd add harnesses to their lineup next!

Source URL:

<http://www.petsugar.com/3548190>